

“Equality for Some: Gender, Class and Social Policy in Comparative Perspective”

Dr. Lynn Prince Cooke

School of Social Policy, Sociology, and Social Research

University of Kent

Thursday October 29, 2009 12:30-2pm

2435 Sewell Social Sciences Bldg

Lynn Prince Cooke (DPhil, Nuffield College, Oxford University) is a Senior Lecturer in Sociology and Social Policy at the University of Kent in Canterbury, UK. From an interdisciplinary perspective and using a multi-method approach, she explores policy effects on life course outcomes for members of different social groups (class, gender, ethnic and demographic intersections). Her research has appeared in American Journal of Sociology, Journal of Social Policy, European Sociological Review, and Journal of Marriage and Family, and she serves on the editorial board of the latter two journals.

---

Sponsored by the Center for German and European Studies, in conjunction with FemSem (Sociology of Gender), the European Union Center of Excellence, and the Center for European Studies. Additional support is provided by the LaFollette School of Public Affairs and the Havens Center

---